About IT Deptt., DTU

An amalgam of Computers and Telecommunications, Information Technology has changed the lives of people globally with applications apparent in every walk of life. It empowers the younger generation with knowledge of recent advancements in this sector and provides them with a platform to work in various industries such as banking, insurance, communications, etc. Other popular areas that encompass scope for IT and have grown in the recent years are medicine, E-Governance, entertainment and multimedia, scientific research, business intelligence solutions and knowledge discovery in databases. The Delhi Technological University (formerly Delhi College of Engineering), offers an undergraduate B.Tech. Course in Information Technology. Also, to meet the growing demands of present day technologies, DTU has started post graduate studies in Information Systems from the year 2009-2010, with an annual intake of 21 students. Specialized knowledge on analysis and design of the department provides well-equipped and well-connected state of the art laboratories in the areas of RF engineering and Web Engineering, Computer Networking, Advance Signal Processing, Information Security, etc. Future plans for advancement and expansion of the research in the areas of information security, computer networks, optical communication, knowledge discovery in databases and other IT related fields shall be undertaken.

Objectives of the FDP:

- To develop leadership quality in faculty and students;
- To make faculty and student aware of Wellness, Stress-management and Resilience and learn techniques to manage these;
- To make faculty and student learn life skills
- To equip the faculty and students with Human values and ethics
- To make faculty and student learn proactive approaches to enhance social connection, and service-based engagement with community to enhance health, happiness and quality of life.

Topics to be covered

STREET PLAY 'NAVODITA'

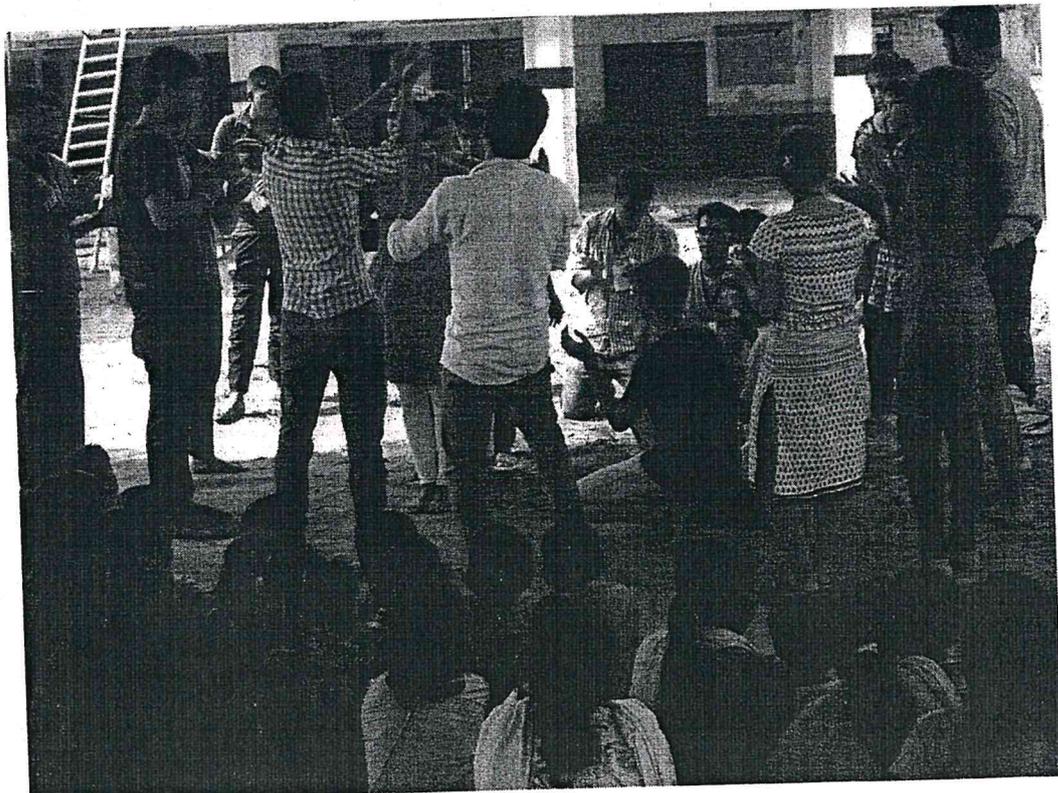

Another highlight of the camp was a street play named 'Navodita' on the problems faced by women in rural areas. The aim of the play was to motivate villagers to educate their daughters and motivate them to study and work for their family and also to become independent in their life. Raising matters related to inequality, injustice, malpractice, violence, and exploitation in society against girls, the play emphasized the need to break the silence and oppose the prevalent patriarchal social systems that oppress women. It also beckoned the girls to be a part of bringing change in the society.

A still from the play.

Subject: REQUEST FOR PERMISSION AND SANCTION OF AMOUNT TO ORGANISE SAHAYOG reg:-

Respected Sir,

This is to request your kind permission for NSS DTU to organize "SAHAYOG", a mega donation drive and to sanction an amount to NSS DTU for the same

Purpose	Rate	Quantity	Amount
Canopy	Rs2500/unit	1	Rs 2500
Rolling Board	Rs1500/unit	1	Rs 1500
Publicity posters	Rs12/poster	100	Rs 1200
Stationary- sheets, forms etc.	Rs5/form	300	Rs 1500
Banners for publicity	Rs750/banner	2	Rs 1500
Transportation			Rs 2000
TOTAL			Rs 10,200

Sahyog will be a donation drive concerned with providing the basic amenities to the new students of the university. From the past two years NSS DTU has been actively helping in coordinating the admission counseling of our University. Every year students from various family backgrounds take admission in our University. Many among them are in need of various materials that are required in college such as drafter, lab coat, apron etc. Also many students, opting for hostel require basic amenities such as blanket, curtain, notebooks etc. We are planning to organize a donation drive in which we will collect all these materials from the graduating 4th year students of our University. Also 2nd year students could donate all the materials which they do not require but which might be useful to first year students.

Tentative Period: April to May, 2016.

NATIONAL SERVICE SCHEME

NSS DTU SPECIAL RURAL CAMP 2016

October 8, 2016 – October 12, 2016

Village Gadhaiya, Rampur District, Uttar Pradesh

In collaboration with

YOUTH AWARENESS SESSIONS

On the last day of our visit, the volunteers conducted an adolescent awareness session for the teenage girls of the village. The session focused on female health and hygiene and menstrual myths and facts. Sanitary napkins were distributed among the females towards the end of the session. It was a very informative session for those girls as they were not aware of the basic facts related to their own health. The session concluded with NSS DTU girl volunteers receiving a heartwarming 'thank you' from the village youth.

Alongside this, we also conducted a counseling session for the youth of the village in which we gathered a considerable number of students eager to know the possible career plans for their future. NSS volunteers guided them on the correct approach they must follow in order to pursue their desired profession.

The students and fieldwork coordinator made great efforts and tried to put their heart and soul into making this experience fruitful to all members of the team. Most of the objectives laid down for the camp were achieved in the allotted time. The students were able to make the best of this opportunity. It promoted the holistic development of our students at individual and society level both. This was a great opportunity for students to learn about rural living, adapting to the new environment and to work as a united group to meet a few needs of the community. The Special camp was helpful in inculcating various skills in the students like organizing, mobilizing, problem-solving, leadership, decision-making, etc. Thus, the camp was a good platform to work as a team and learning new skills. We were able to spread awareness on issues like the importance of cleaning, hygiene and education. The efforts were observed as the villagers stepped out of their houses to clean their neighborhood and attended our programs. Thus, the experience of visiting a rural setting played a key role in absorbing the differences between urban and rural settings with humility.

STREET PLAY 'NAVODITA'

Another highlight of the camp was a street play named 'Navodita' on the problems faced by women in rural areas. The aim of the play was to motivate villagers to educate their daughters and motivate them to study and work for their family and also to become independent in their life. Raising matters related to inequality, injustice, malpractice, violence, and exploitation in society against girls, the play emphasized the need to break the silence and oppose the prevalent patriarchal social systems that oppress women. It also beckoned the girls to be a part of bringing change in the society.

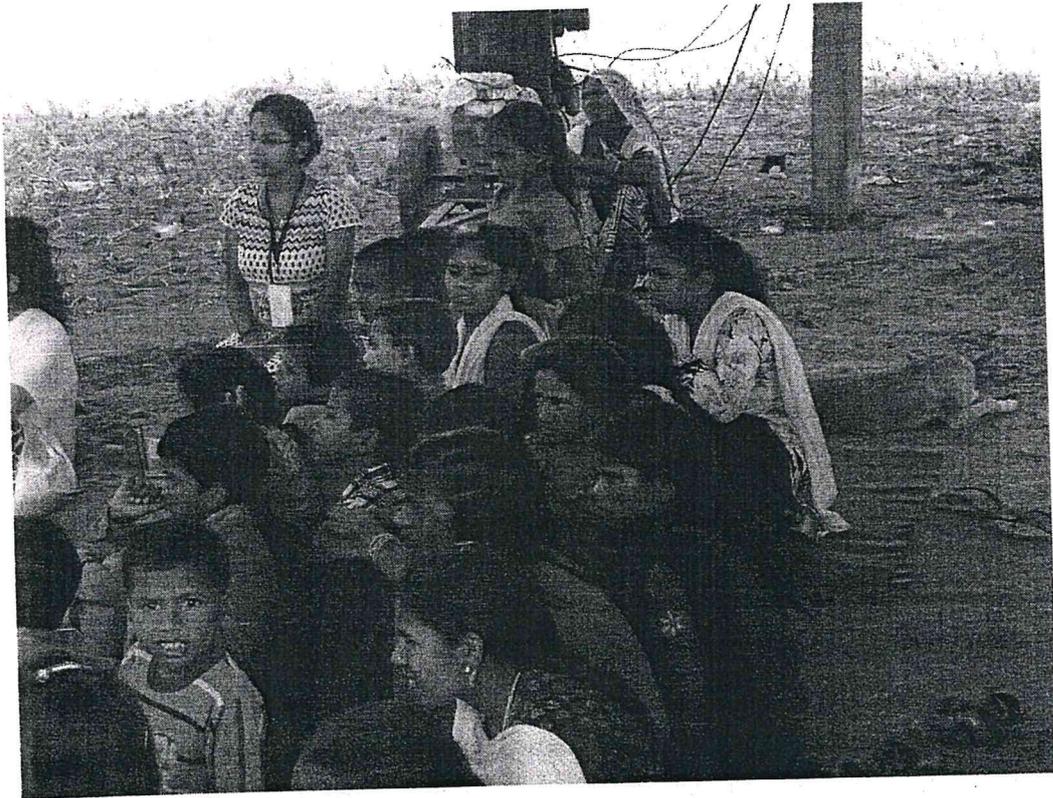

A still from the play.
